

HeartPrints

Center for Early Education

The HeartPrints Center for Early Education is a progressive preschool program whose curriculum integrates elements from several highly respected approaches to early childhood education – the Montessori approach, the Reggio Emilia approach and the High/Scope approach. Program enrollment is consistently at maximum capacity with a ‘wait list’ for future enrollment, and the strategic plan for HeartPrints calls for growth of 25% over the next 3-5 years. This nonprofit organization is housed in the Georgia Berner Development Center within the Regional Learning Alliance in Cranberry Township.

The Board of Directors of HeartPrints currently has openings for Board and/or committee members with specific knowledge in the areas of non-profit finance and non-profit law. We are also seeking fundraising expertise. If this is an opportunity that may interest you, please contact Cheri Armitage, current HeartPrints Board Chair, via the contact information listed below.

Cheri Armitage

724.448.7543 (cell)

jonandcheri@zoominternet.net

For further details about the HeartPrints program, check us out on the web at www.cranberryheartprints.com.